Frequently Asked Questions

Customers often ask whether they can return items without a receipt. The answer is no, proof of purchase is mandatory in all cases, whether physical or digital.

Another common question is whether online purchases can be returned in-store.

The answer is yes, customers may return online purchases at any physical store location or ship them back using the provided return label.

Refunds are processed within seven to ten business days, depending on the payment method. Credit card refunds may take longer due to bank processing times, while store credit is usually available immediately after approval. Sale items are eligible for exchange only and cannot be refunded, except in cases of manufacturing defects.

Gift purchases may be exchanged for another item of equal value, but refunds are not issued to gift recipients. In cases where the original purchaser initiates the return, the refund is processed to the original payment method.

Defective products discovered after use are covered if the defect is a manufacturing fault and not caused by misuse. Electronics with defects are exchanged or repaired under warranty. Apparel with stitching issues or material flaws is eligible for exchange or refund.

International customers often ask whether customs duties are refundable. Duties and taxes paid at the time of import are not refundable. Refunds are issued in the original currency of purchase, and exchange rates may affect the final amount received.

Bundled promotional items must be returned together. Free gifts included with purchases must also be returned if the main item is refunded.

Returns after thirty days are not accepted, except in cases of warranty claims for electronics and appliances. Perishable goods such as groceries, dairy, and fresh produce cannot be returned once sold, except if they were expired or damaged at the time of purchase. Complaints must be filed within twenty-four hours.

Refunds are processed using the original payment method. Cash refunds are only available if the original purchase was made in cash.
